

Cohort Evaluation Instructions

Dear Aim4Excellence Participant,

Congratulations! We are delighted that you have joined over 1,300 professionals who have earned the Aim4Excellence™ National Director Credential.

One important request is that you complete the online Aim4Excellence Cohort Evaluation upon the completion of Module 9. This information is important not only to the organization that has provided this professional development experience for you, but future cohorts may be dependent on the critical perspective that you can provide. Funders also need this information for justification to support money that was allocated for the experience. In addition, the McCormick Center for Early Childhood Leadership will also be needing this for evaluation purposes.

This evaluation will only take a few minutes. Please access the online evaluation at:

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to reach out to our Program Manager and thank you for your important insights!
